

Marcia Sanoden (651) 235-7632 - Guitar email

Marcia is our new Sunday teacher who loves to work with children and female students who want to learn from a peer. She is patient and easy-going.

"I like guitar lessons with Marcia because she makes it fun." Jenni T., Age 9, Forest Lake.

Marcia started studying classical guitar at age 13 in Japan, where classical guitar was popular. She studied through college, and played guitar with the Minnesota Mandolin Orchestra. Picking up steel string and flat-pick styles, she learned country, pop and rhythm guitar. She enjoys improvising behind folk or country performers. Marcia has studied with Anthony Hauser, Ric Oliva, Dale Dahlquist and jazz guitarist Joan Griffith. She enjoys beginners or intermediate players/songwriters who want to improve their guitar skills. Marcia has taught at The Music Connection, Music Go Round, and Walker West Music Academy.
