

William Lillmars - Brass Instrument Repair email

Bill is our brass workhorse, he has serviced thousands of horns for local musicians. Bill brings with him many years of experience in school band repair from respected organizations. Bring him something that looks like it was hit by a truck, if it's fixable, he'll fix it. Bill excels at precision metal work, he also works part-time for a manufacturer of pricey tone-arms for turntables. Bill plays brass instruments, guitar and any other contraption he sees.
